

Noni Greene, DVM

Practice Limited to Emergency & Critical Care

Noni Greene, DVM joined the emergency and critical care staff of OVRS in September of 2004. She graduated from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, where she received a Bachelors of Science degree with the dual concentration in Biology and African American and African Studies. She earned her Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine degree at Tuskegee University where she graduated first in her class and earned numerous awards and scholarships.

After earning her DVM, Dr. Greene then secured a coveted position as a rotating small animal intern at Alameda East Veterinary Hospital in Denver Colorado where she practiced high quality emergency medicine with Animal Planet's "Emergency Vets." Her interests in emergency medicine grew out of the experience. Her special interests include endocrinopathies and congenital heart diseases.

Dr. Greene is a member of American Veterinary Medical Association, the Alumni Association of the University of Michigan, and the veterinary fraternity Omega Tau Sigma.
